JOB DESCRIPTION TELETHON KIDS INSTITUTE

Why is this Job Description being written?		New Position 🗌 Replacement Position 🗌 Position re-designed 🗌 Position not previously described
POSITION DETAILS:	Position Title:	KIMBERLEY FIELD FELLOWSHIP
Division:	Aboriginal Health Research Focus Area		Department:	Aboriginal Health & Wellbeing
Position reports to: (role)	Team Leader, Aboriginal Health & Wellbeing
Location: include all possible locations Telethon K		ds Institute Broome office or a mutually agreed alternative location in the Kimberley region

POSITION PURPOSE: In one or two sentences briefly summarise the overall purpose of this role, i.e. broadly, what this role does and why

The Telethon Kids Institute has created two field fellowships to be based in our Broome office to respond to requests from Aboriginal communities in the Kimberley and other stakeholders for research in the following areas:

- 1. Positive parenting and family support programs to prevent the transmission of intergenerational trauma, enhance child development and promote school readiness; and
- 2. Youth resilience and coping skills to address high rates of depression, anxiety, suicide and self-harm

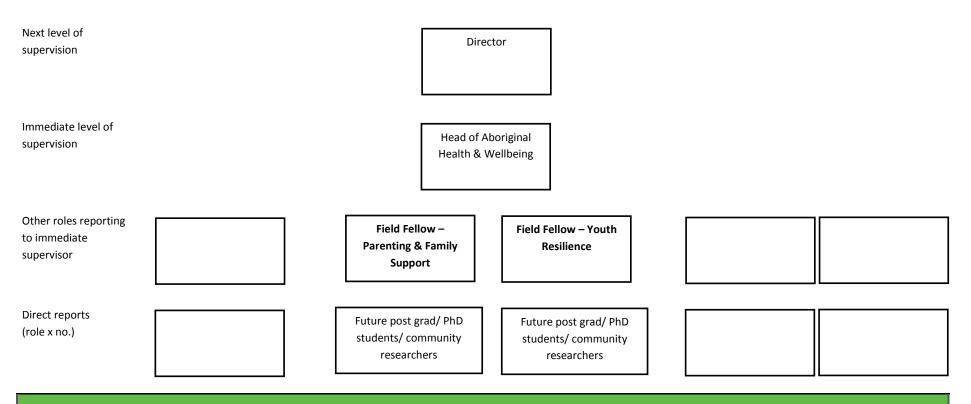

Working with Aboriginal communities and other stakeholders, each fellow will develop a program of research in one of the areas listed above that builds the evidence base of what works in the Kimberley to improve the outcomes for Aboriginal children and families. Fellows will lead, design, conduct and translate relevant research projects, including evaluations. Developing and maintaining strong relationships with stakeholders, including Aboriginal Elders, community members and relevant services is a key component of this work.

KEY RESPONSIBILI	(EY RESPONSIBILITY AREAS (Please list in order of importance)
Key Position Accountabilities What are the main areas for which the position is accountable	% of Total Role	Inputs: What are the key activities or tasks to be carried out?	Outputs: What are the expected end results?	Measures: How it is measured
Research	55	 In collaboration with Elders, community members, and other Kimberley stakeholders, develop a program of research to achieve improved outcomes in parenting and family support OR youth resilience Lead, manage and conduct research studies related to that program of research. Possible research studies include evaluations, formative research, pilot projects and larger studies utilizing qualitative and/ or quantitative methods Manage all aspects of research studies including consultation and co-design, obtaining ethics, consent processes, secure data storage/ management and analysis Write up results in peer reviewed publications Ongoing review of literature for all aspects of parenting and family support OR youth resilience, keeping up to date with new and current findings Participate at research meetings and seminars for ongoing continuing education Collaborate with other researchers and key stakeholders Seek and apply for grant/fellowship funding for research studies/ program 	 Successful completion designated studies Appropriate interpretation of results and reporting of scientific findings Publishing journal articles and research reports Keeping up to date with latest research findings Securing grants and fellowships Conference attendance 	 Completion of studies in timely manner Development of new evidence Number and value of grants/fellowships obtained Positive feedback from team members and collaborators

Knowledge Transfer/Research Output	30	 Develop and maintain strong working relationships with key stakeholders, including Aboriginal Elders, community members, relevant service providers, policy makers and community groups Share knowledge and experience with Kimberley stakeholders, networks and research colleagues Support the translation of research findings to clinical practice, service delivery and to Aboriginal communities and community members Write research publications and submitting to high impact peerreviewed journals Write community information sheets and developing multimedia products to share and translate findings for Aboriginal community members (as relevant) Present findings at local, national, and international conference and scientific meetings 	 Changes to service practice Published journal articles Community information products Participation at relevant meetings, conferences and seminars Engagement with community representatives 	 Published journal articles Participation at relevant meetings, conferences and seminars Engagement with stakeholders and Aboriginal communities Community information products
Project Management	10	 Develop and implement a timeline for delivery of project activities and submissions Monitor and report on the progress of projects and be able to recognise barriers and risks, and look for effective solutions 	• Effective and timely communication with relevant grant, ethics and other administrative bodies	 Communication of timelines to investigators, community and stakeholders. Meeting timeline deadlines.
Leadership and Supervision	5	 Train, supervise, and mentor future research students and staff Participate in team meetings, providing constructive feedback on research projects, ideas and presentations of other team members 	 Expand supervision skills and experience in mentoring students and staff Contribute to other research projects and team activities 	 Positive feedback from students and staff, chief investigators and collaborators

ESSENTIAL SKILLS, KNOWLEDGE AND EXPERIENCE:
Qualifications: what are the minimum educational or professional qualifications required to competently p	I PhD or Equivalent
Skills, Knowledge & Experience:	 Developing track record relative to opportunity in a relevant field Experience in relevant research and related methodologies Knowledge and understanding of local Aboriginal culture and community dynamics Well-developed interpersonal verbal and written communication skills High-level written and oral communication skills, including scientific publications and presentations Experience in the writing grants and ethics applications Capacity to supervise students Strong planning and organisational skills and attention to detail, including a demonstrated ability to set goals, manage multiple priorities and meet deadlines Demonstrated ability to work independently and also work cooperatively as part of a multidisciplinary, geographically dispersed team
DESIRABLE SKILLS, KNOWLEDGE	AND EXPERIENCE:
Qualifications: what are the minimum educational or professional qualifications required to competently p
Skills, Knowledge & Experience:	 Experience delivering research skills training and/ or training community researchers Experience with participatory action research or community development approaches
SCOPE:
Financial accountability: Does this role have accountability for a budget?
• Yes
People responsibility: Does this role have any direct reports or indirect reports (through direct reports)?
No. of direct reports 1-2 Fut	ure PhD or other students No. of indirect reports

ORGANISATIONAL CHART: (please complete using position titles or insert diagram below)

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION: is there any additional information that needs to be understood to explain this role?

Full-time Broome-based position for 3-years, with the aim that fellows will have secured grant funding and/or other fellowships to continue past that period.

These fellowships are supported by a philanthropic donor and will be named.